

THE ELGI™
MAGAZINE

COMPRESSORS IN MARBLE MINING

STANDING OUT IN ALL WAYS

NEW APPLICATIONS

EXTREME SYSTEMS HELPING BONES HEAL

COMPRESSED AIR IN NATURE

ALL EARS

TRAVELOGUE

STRANGE CONSTELLATIONS

BACKWATERS OF KUMARAKOM

Send in your letters, faxes and e-mails to:

THE ELGI MAGAZINE

Corporate Communications

ELGI Equipments Ltd.,

Trichy Road, Singanallur,

Coimbatore - 641005

Ph: +91-422-2589555

Fax : +91-422-2573697

E-mail: communications@elgi.com

Online version available at www.elgi.com

VOLUME 10 APR 2015 - MAR 2016

MANUSCRIPT AND ART

Author:

Mr. Kumaran Sathasivam

Layout Design and Editing:

STRAIGHT CURVE SOLUTIONS, Chennai

Printed at:

THE SAFIRE OFFSET PRINTERS, Sivakasi

Image Courtesy:

commons.wikimedia.org, www.shutterstock.com,
www.istockphoto.com, www.howstuffworks.com

EDITORIAL NOTE

Dear Reader,

Welcome to the 2015 issue of ELGI Magazine!

ELGI air compressors are put to a great many uses, and we find the stories behind the applications very fascinating. And so we present a number of these stories in each issue.

The various applications we look at in this edition take us to diverse locations: dockyards and oil platforms, for instance.

We are inspired to poetry by the use of compressed air in the manufacture of bearings.

If you are visiting Coimbatore, consider taking a trip to the various destinations nearby. In this issue we feature Kumarakom, located on Vembanad Lake, which is renown for backwaters tourism.

We look at the sense of sound in our series on Nature and compressed air.

Other articles in this issue include a business proposition from ATS ELGI.

We hope you enjoy reading the magazine.

We look forward to your suggestions and feedback.

Editorial Team